Adolescents and children living with HIV around the world deserve the chance to live their life to the fullest. The New Horizons Advancing Pediatric HIV Care Collaborative is making tremendous progress in advancing health and care for HIV+ children and teens by connecting young people that are failing HIV therapy in some of the highest burden countries in Sub-Saharan Africa. In particular, we are focusing on the needs of vertically infected HIV+ adolescents along their life journey. 2015 has been an exciting, productive year for us – and we wanted to share some of this progress with you as we begin 2016.

New Horizons Collaborative

i. The World Health Organization (WHO) defines an adolescent as any person between ages 10 and 19. Adolescence is the transitional phase between childhood and adulthood.

ii. HIV+ adolescents along their life journey.

iii. The第三 Expression of Interest will open on Wednesday.

iv. International Conference on AIDS and STIs in Africa

2015: A Year in Review

Since our launch in 2014, New Horizons has focused on building healthcare worker capacity. Some of the activities conducted and supported by EGPAF, Janssen, and the Relevance Network (TRN) are described below.

Donation Practice

We supported a panel discussion, “Resistance Made Easy,” at the 9th International Workshop on HIV Pediatrics in Vancouver. The panel featured representatives from New Horizons, the Pediatric AIDS Foundation (EGPAF), and selected Local HIV+ experts, avoid duplication, share insights and explore opportunities to collaborate. For further information please click here.

Representatives from TRN, Right to Care and The Relevance Network (TRN) are described below.

Stronger Partnership

As we directly engage with our partner countries, we better understand the local context and the opportunities where New Horizons can deliver the greatest impact. We engage with stakeholders to understand the landscape of programs of pediatric HIV care and treatment to learn from experts, avoid duplication, share insights and explore opportunities to collaborate. As a result New Horizons continue to grow and evolve.

This year, our focus will continue to be on those pediatric HIV+ patients that need or are receiving third-line treatment and the systems that support them. Most of these patients are adolescents, many uncertain of the future ahead of them, and all desiring of a happy, healthy life.

As a result New Horizons continues to grow and evolve.

Conference Activity

We have been an exciting, productive year for us – and we wanted to share some of this progress with you as we begin 2016.

2015 has been an exciting, productive year for us – and we wanted to share some of this progress with you as we begin 2016.

2015: A Year in Review

Since our launch in 2014, New Horizons has focused on building healthcare worker capacity. Some of the activities conducted and supported by EGPAF, Janssen, and the Relevance Network (TRN) are described below.

Donation Practice

We supported a panel discussion, “Resistance Made Easy,” at the 9th International Workshop on HIV Pediatrics in Vancouver. The panel featured representatives from New Horizons, the Pediatric AIDS Foundation (EGPAF), and selected Local HIV+ experts, avoid duplication, share insights and explore opportunities to collaborate. For further information please click here.

Representatives from TRN, Right to Care and The Relevance Network (TRN) are described below.

Stronger Partnership

As we directly engage with our partner countries, we better understand the local context and the opportunities where New Horizons can deliver the greatest impact. We engage with stakeholders to understand the landscape of programs of pediatric HIV care and treatment to learn from experts, avoid duplication, share insights and explore opportunities to collaborate. As a result New Horizons continue to grow and evolve.

This year, our focus will continue to be on those pediatric HIV+ patients that need or are receiving third-line treatment and the systems that support them. Most of these patients are adolescents, many uncertain of the future ahead of them, and all desiring of a happy, healthy life.

As a result New Horizons continues to grow and evolve.

Conference Activity

We have been an exciting, productive year for us – and we wanted to share some of this progress with you as we begin 2016.

2015 has been an exciting, productive year for us – and we wanted to share some of this progress with you as we begin 2016.

2015: A Year in Review

Since our launch in 2014, New Horizons has focused on building healthcare worker capacity. Some of the activities conducted and supported by EGPAF, Janssen, and the Relevance Network (TRN) are described below.

Donation Practice

We supported a panel discussion, “Resistance Made Easy,” at the 9th International Workshop on HIV Pediatrics in Vancouver. The panel featured representatives from New Horizons, the Pediatric AIDS Foundation (EGPAF), and selected Local HIV+ experts, avoid duplication, share insights and explore opportunities to collaborate. For further information please click here.

Representatives from TRN, Right to Care and The Relevance Network (TRN) are described below.

Stronger Partnership

As we directly engage with our partner countries, we better understand the local context and the opportunities where New Horizons can deliver the greatest impact. We engage with stakeholders to understand the landscape of programs of pediatric HIV care and treatment to learn from experts, avoid duplication, share insights and explore opportunities to collaborate. As a result New Horizons continue to grow and evolve.

This year, our focus will continue to be on those pediatric HIV+ patients that need or are receiving third-line treatment and the systems that support them. Most of these patients are adolescents, many uncertain of the future ahead of them, and all desiring of a happy, healthy life.

As a result New Horizons continues to grow and evolve.

Conference Activity

We have been an exciting, productive year for us – and we wanted to share some of this progress with you as we begin 2016.

2015 has been an exciting, productive year for us – and we wanted to share some of this progress with you as we begin 2016.

2015: A Year in Review

Since our launch in 2014, New Horizons has focused on building healthcare worker capacity. Some of the activities conducted and supported by EGPAF, Janssen, and the Relevance Network (TRN) are described below.

Donation Practice

We supported a panel discussion, “Resistance Made Easy,” at the 9th International Workshop on HIV Pediatrics in Vancouver. The panel featured representatives from New Horizons, the Pediatric AIDS Foundation (EGPAF), and selected Local HIV+ experts, avoid duplication, share insights and explore opportunities to collaborate. For further information please click here.

Representatives from TRN, Right to Care and The Relevance Network (TRN) are described below.

Stronger Partnership

As we directly engage with our partner countries, we better understand the local context and the opportunities where New Horizons can deliver the greatest impact. We engage with stakeholders to understand the landscape of programs of pediatric HIV care and treatment to learn from experts, avoid duplication, share insights and explore opportunities to collaborate. As a result New Horizons continue to grow and evolve.

This year, our focus will continue to be on those pediatric HIV+ patients that need or are receiving third-line treatment and the systems that support them. Most of these patients are adolescents, many uncertain of the future ahead of them, and all desiring of a happy, healthy life.

As a result New Horizons continues to grow and evolve.

Conference Activity

We have been an exciting, productive year for us – and we wanted to share some of this progress with you as we begin 2016.

2015 has been an exciting, productive year for us – and we wanted to share some of this progress with you as we begin 2016.